Seventy-Five Persons Give Up Their Lives on Ohio River.

SCENES OF HORROR

Flames on City of Pittsburg Sunday Morning Causes Unprecedented Disaster.

HEROIC RESCUE WORK

Cairo, Ill., April 21.—A blackened and misshapen wreck lying on the Kentucky shore eighteen miles above this city is all that is left today of the handsome steamer City of Pittsburg which was burned to the water's edge on Sunday morning. Within the ruins, still too hot to search, are entombed the bodies of scores of passengers and members of the crew who were caught like rats in a trap and roasted alive. The burning of the vessel is accounted as one of the worst river disasters in recent years. The panic that followed the fire was such as has seldom before been witnessed on a river steamer. The people rushed in every direction, some jumped through the windows onto the deck and then into the river not stopping to put on life preservers.

MET DEATH IN STEAMER FIRE

Over Seventy-Five Persons on City of Pittsburg Sunday Morning

Cairo, Ill., April 21.—The steamer City of Pittsburg was burned in the Ohio river early Sunday and probably seventy-five of the 150 persons on board perished. The exact loss of life cannot be told, as the passenger list was destroyed. Half of the victims were passengers and the other half members of the crew. The following are known to be dead:

Captain Wesley Doss, Cincinnati; Miss Marie Tesslin, Cannelton, Ind.; three children of Mrs. Fannie McCullum of Leavenworth, Ind.; Patrick Burt and seven members of his family of Owensboro, Ky.; child of Pilot Al Pritchard; Clay Breeze, wife and son of Uniontown, Ky.; child of Archie M. Allen of Pittsburg; Mrs. Marie Lister, Carrollton, O.; Mr. Adams, of Ohio; Mr. Downs of Memphis; Miss Sweeney of Owensboro, Ky.; L. L. Hunter of Little, Pa.

The following members of the crew, names unknown, are also missing:

First pantry man, three colored firemen, six cabin boys, two chambermaids, eight deck hands.

Three bodies have been recovered. They are those of Captain Doss, Miss Marie Tesslin and the youngest of the McCullum children.

Capt. Phillips was asleep at the time the fire broke out, and when he was aroused the flames were coming up through the cabin floor. The cabin was then empty of passengers, who had either gotten outside or were suffocated in their berths. Capt. Scott says there were sixty-six passengers aboard, aside from possibly five or six babies. There were about as many men in the cabin as women. The crew numbered about seventy-five, making in all about 150 souls aboard.

Mrs. Sherman McCullum, with her three children, was going to Caruthersville, Mo., to join her husband. She jumped overboard and landed in the yawl, but her three children fell in the water and she saw them sink from sight. The body of the youngest was recovered opposite Mound City and its remains were identified by the mother.

Pilot Pritchard's child was tossed from the burning steamer into the arms of persons waiting to catch it in the yawl, but its head struck on the side of the boat and then it fell into the river and was lost.

One of the surviving members of the crew gave this account: "The fire was discovered at 4:05 o'clock in the forward hold. By 4:15 o'clock the entire boat was in flames, and at 4:30 o'clock the steamer was a wreck. The front stairway burned, cutting off any avenue of escape. We alarmed the sleeping passengers, bursting open their doors to awaken them. They ran out without putting on life preservers, and crowded aft.

"The officers held them back while one yawl was loaded with women and children. The scene was awful. About twenty or thirty were taken off in the boat, and then some of those in the water were rescued. Many who were not burned up in the steamer drowned in the river.

"When we reached shore we were unable to stand and had to be helped out of the water. It seemed as though we were crazed by fright, for we were screaming even after we were safe ashore."

The first news of the disaster was sent out from Olmstead, the nearest telegraph station. The clerk went three miles down street to Caledonia and then inland to Olmstead. Help was asked from Edouard hopes, being that the steamer New South could be caught there and could turn back to the assistance of the distressed people. The New South had passed just before the accident, but was too far away to signal. When the news reached Paducah the boat had passed, and no steamer was in readiness to go to the assistance of the unfortunates.

It was not until 2:30 o'clock, ten hours after the fire was over, that a steamer, the tugboat Maude Kilgore, passed. She brought the wretched survivors down to Cairo.

In the meantime the people of the surrounding country rendered what little assistance they could. At Caledonia, three miles below, the flames could be plainly seen. The shouts of the passengers were heard and the people on shore put out in shifts to the wreck.

The burning steamer was quickly headed to the bank. Passengers jumped off, and in trying to swim to the shore through the swift current many were drowned. Only one yawl on the boat was saved without oars, and in this thirty women were taken off. Others were picked up out of the water.

GREAT RUSH TO THE NORTHWEST

Thousands Are Seeking Homes in the Dakotas and Washington.

95,000 THIS SPRING

The Fares on the Railroads Have Been Reduced to a Very Low Rate.

FEW BADGER FARMERS

It is believed that the westward tide of homeseekers has carried fully 95,000 people into northern Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and Washington this spring from points as far east as Pennsylvania, but principally from Iowa, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Missouri has been a fertile field for those who have held out the rich virgin lands of the extreme north and coast states as an inducement for emigration, for the drought of last year made hundreds of the farmers of that state ready converts to the glowing doctrine of the golden west.

Make Very Cheap Rates

During March and April one way fares of $33 from Chicago, $25 from Kansas City and $25 from St. Paul have been in force over the northern Pacific and Great Northern roads to Portland and principal points in the west. This rate will remain in effect until April 30, and during May a round rate of one fare plus $2 will be made, excursions being made the first and third Tuesday of the month.

Estimates prepared in St. Paul show that fully 95,000 people have settled in the northern west this spring, and it is believed here that these figures are correct, as the emigration over the Canadian Pacific has been extra heavy this spring, and 30,000 would be a moderate estimate of the number of settlers carried by that road.

Statistics show that the number that have settled in Washington alone reach a total of 44,000, and that here is 20 per cent more emigration to that state now than there was a year ago.

Not Many Wisconsin Farmers

March 25 was the largest colonization day of the American roads, a large number of extra excursion trains being run into North Dakota on that date. The large majority of these were farmers who were prepared to begin life on the government lands, with a fair chance of success, having sold their lands in the east and middle west, and having money to carry them through the first development year.

There has been no large number of Wisconsin farmers leaving the state, although a few have gone west, the majority of the number have sold Wisconsin lands, having gone into the northern part of their own state. It is reported, however, that quite a number of northern lumbermen have left the state and settled in Washington, where are now located the principal lumber camps of the world.

SUNDAY SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

Extract of Sermon by the Rev. R. C. Denison—Revival Meetings at Court St. M. E. Church.

Rev. R. C. Denison preached an interesting and instructive sermon at the Congregational church last night on "How a Talented Man Failed." He said in part:

It is natural for us to think that life would be easily successful in proportion as it is endowed with talent. We can understand how a man of average abilities might have difficulty in making his life a full success—but if one could only be given genius—the skill of the poet, or the artist, or the magic of the musician, how easily life could be made brilliantly successful. And yet when we read the stories of richly talented men, it is wonderful to see how few of them really and truly succeeded.

There was Robert Burns of Scotland, who came from a farmer's family and yet touched with that wonderful magic of genius, which made the songs of his heart and lips, as exquisite as the songs of the birds, with a wonderful flow of melody which for a century has been the glory and pride of Scotland. But the story of his genius is as sad as a funeral march.

Then there is the wrecked life of Lord Byron, our own Poe, Mark Anthony, the Roman general; Napoleon and thousands of others who cannot be named now. The Old Testament, true to life as it is, has many an example of the downfall of genius.

One reason for the failure of the man of talent is that he tries to live outside of the experience of other people's lives. He thinks he is an exception. From the beginning of time it has been true that men have only one experience. They have found that self-indulgence leads always to weakness and death. They have found always that love and truth and purity only lead to success. But there is a strange fatality about some people which makes them think they are exceptions, that they can live outside of the experiences of common men and women. But we must inevitably come around to the decree that the same laws are over us all.

One thing which the life of these men of talent and their failure seem to teach is that the secrets of real success are not in the exceptional things which are beyond the reach of all. What are the powers, the gifts which lead to success? Not the talents of the genius, but simply mastery of self, devotion to the highest and best.

AT COURT STREET CHURCH

Rev. Baskerville's Revival Sermons Drew Large Crowds Yesterday

The revival meetings at Court Street M. E. church, were well attended yesterday, both morning and evening. In the morning the evangelist, Mr. Baskerville spoke on the topic, "Is it necessary to be born again?" using Nicodemus as the object lesson. In the evening the auditorium was filled to the doors, the first M. E. church uniting in the services. A quartette, and chorus choir, furnished the music. "Will a man be held accountable for his actions," was the topic of the evening. The sermon was very impressive, and a number signified their desire to lead a new life.

Mr. Baskerville spoke to 200 men at the Y. M. C. A. building in the afternoon. The services will be continued every afternoon and evening during the week. The public is cordially invited.

BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES

Morning Sermon by Rev. Judson B. Thomas, D. D., of Chicago

"You might as well try to raise a baby on the curb stone without a house to live in as expect to build up a church without a house of worship," said Judson B. Thomas, D. D., yesterday morning. He vividly painted life in the new towns of the west and spoke of the need of church buildings in them. Open doors was the general theme of his address and other doors of opportunity mentioned were the half million immigrants who came to our shores last year and the negroes of the South. A goodly offering was made for the work of the Home Missions Society.

"Old Things Made New," was the theme of the pastor's sermon in the evening to a good audience. In a clear manner he presented the changed appearance of all things to the man who has become a Christian. Men that he once hated, he now loves, not because they have changed but because he sees them in a new light. New members have been welcomed at every communion service during the present pastorate and large audiences are the rule rather than the exception.

SHEEP AND WOOL.

Elmer Bullard.

A little band of sheep ought to be kept on every farm, whatever the leading lines of husbandry may be that are followed are the same to this rule, there ought to be no exceptions unless in instances peculiar and extreme. They ought to be thus kept for many reasons.

1st.—They ought to be kept to assist in tiding up the farm. This they will do if they are given half a chance. In the weeds that they consume, in the way they will trim up the grass in lanes and paddocks, in fence borders and even in the highways they will glean amid the stubbles and will follow up in pastures, where other stock have grazed, but few weeds or plants will escape their notice. They should have a variety of feed in all seasons of the year and will thrive much better than when confined to one article of diet.

2nd.—They ought to be kept since it virtually costs next to nothing to keep them, the farmer will shake his head and say, they must be fed in winter. That is true, but they only require to be fed when the ground is covered, and when so fed, they only consume three or four pounds of dry feed per day in the summer. They not only pick their living without cost, but they labor through all the summer season for the well-being of the farm. The weeds that one sheep will consume in the summer are about as many or more than the average farm boy can be persuaded to destroy in a single season. Therefore, a small band of sheep are wage earners. The offset to this wage earning is the extra fencing required to keep them in place. Of course on a grain farm, it might not pay so well to fence the whole farm for a small band of sheep, but where rational farming is carried on, more or less fencing will be maintained on the farm even where grain growing is their chief object of pursuit.

3rd.—They ought to be kept to supply the farmers with meat during the warm months, no more delectable meat can be furnished at such seasons and none is more wholesome. The farmer can in this way, get it virtually without cost, since the pasture which makes the mutton would otherwise much of it be lost.

4th.—They ought to be kept since under such conditions they do remarkably well. Sheep never do so well as when a small band of them is allowed to roam about over the farm as occasion may require, gathering up feed of many kinds as may suit the appetite. Call them scavengers if you like, while thus engaged they are happy scavengers; disease of any kind will seldom overtake them when they have such liberty. Look at the numbers of tons of hay, acres of pastures, and bushels of grain, turned to mutton and wool, if a band of only twenty-five head of sheep was kept on the average farm, we would have about 5,000,000 head of sheep instead of 500,000.

Through the agency of better acclimatization, better methods of feeding, better management, more careful selection of breeding stock and the influence of the Merino, the average weight of fleece in the United States has increased from 19-100 pounds in 1810 to 7-100 in 1899. There were in sight Jan. 1st, 1900, 41,583,000 sheep in the United States, of this number Illinois stands 23rd in rank of the seventh greatest industry. We believe on the whole that the sheep of today are more modern than the sheepmen. To be sure, we have men who for skill and ability for caring for sheep have never been equalled in the history of this noble animal. Our only regret is, that compared with the great body of sheep raisers throughout the country, these men compose only a small proportion.—Evansville Review.

GRAND COUNCIL OF WISCONSIN U. C. T.

Big Preparations for the Notable Event at Madison on June 13 and 14.

Big preparations are being made by Madison Council, No. 126, to entertain the Grand Council of Wis. U. C. T. of America, June 13 and 14. About 500 members and their wives from all parts of the state are expected to be present and a grand good time is in store for all that attend. Besides the regular business meetings there will be parades, boat, carriage and trolley rides. Receptions, banquets and ball are also on the program and Johnny Smith's full orchestra is one of the attractions.

The local council, No. 108 are making preparations to go in a body by special train and at their last meeting M. C. Fish and A. F. Spooner were appointed a committee of two to secure route rates and list of all that wished to attend and all seen so far have signed to go, assuring at least one hundred.

There is quite a contest between Janesville and Madison to see which can go into the grand council with the largest membership and the members of the council are doing some good work at both places. Milwaukee, La Crosse, Janesville, Madison, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, Marshfield, and Marinette complete the roster of the state and each council will send big delegations. Since the grand council in Janesville two years ago it has more than doubled its membership in the state and today numbers about one thousand Commercial Travelers.

The Capitol building and grounds have been offered the society as headquarters by Governor La Follette and were accepted by the council so that all business meetings will be held there.

New Pearl Button Factory

The Janesville Pearl Button Co. broke ground Saturday for its new factory in Spring Brook and the foundation will be built at once. The company has not decided to erect the superstructure yet, as their lease on their present quarters does not expire until next February. Should they have an opportunity to sub-lease their present location, the superstructure of the new factory would be completed at once.

Praise Mrs. Sweeney

In speaking of a recital given by Miss Ruby Garlick, of Rockford, before the Mendelssohn club, the Star of that city speaks of Mrs. John F. Sweeney as follows: "Mrs. Sweeney's numbers gave variety to the program and was as artistic as her playing always is. She has been a member of the club for some time and her work always gives pleasure. Her first number was a group of McDowell compositions. She was a pupil of this composer and learned under him, giving her an insight not otherwise to be gained. Her other number was a Liszt rhapsody and was well given."

We sat at the table together. She cast a shy glance over at me. She certainly looked like an angel. Oh Charley! Please order me Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith's Pharmacy

T. E. Welch departed on the morning train for Chicago.

TOBACCO MARKET'S SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Past Week Was the Most Active for Months—All Kinds of Leaf in Demand.

The market this week showed considerable signs of improvement. It was, indeed, more active than in any week for months past. All types of leaf were not only inquired for, but taken if the price was but within a reasonable limit for the buyer. Of course, the business done was not in very large lots, either, because they are not to be had. The production of our cigar industry being what it is—phenomenally large—it has been nagging away at the stock on hand all the time and has reduced it to a minimum. Consequently there are no large stocks to dispose of. But what there is shared in the demand and quite a brisk business was done. Altogether about 2,000 cases went into consumption. Under stock remains the great deficiency in the market, and it is safe to predict that a few months hence not a box will remain in the market for sale.

The Sumatra market had also a livelier trade. Although the new Sumatra is not as bad as reported at first—the U. S. Tobacco Journal warned in time not to give full credence to these annual bear reports—it is not as a crop of that evenness of color and yield as the 1900 was. But it is a cheaper crop, and as manufacturers have under the prevailing keen competition and cutting of prices to look out for the saving of a penny, the new leaf will undoubtedly find takers on account of the lower figure. But the old stock has still the call, and will remain a favorite with those who are particular about the color and even yield rather than price. Sales for the week about 400 bales.

In the Havana market a brisker trade prevailed, too, during the week, and more old Remedios than new ones were in demand and purchased, in spite of the fact that the old commands a higher price. About a thousand bales of old changed hands, and several hundred bales of new. Factory vegas were in steady demand.—U. S. Tobacco Journal.

Ship Machinery to Mexico. Yesterday the New Doty Mfg. Co., of this city, started three large punching machines on a long journey. The machines are destined for the use of building in the state of Chiapas, in the southern part of old Mexico. The Doty manufacturing company will furnish several heavy shearing machines for the same company.

Youngest Newspaper Editor. Mr. and Mrs. A. Barnard of 105 Park avenue are proud of the fact that their grandson, Lynn Pritchard, of Grand Rapids, Mich., eleven years of age is probably the youngest newspaper editor in the United States. His publication is known as the Grand Rapids News and is a four page paper. It is a bright little sheet and one that an older editor might feel proud of.

DON'T ACCEPT COUNTERFEITS

For piles, skin diseases, sores, cuts, bruises, burns and other wounds nothing equals Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Don't accept counterfeits. None genuine except Dr. Witt's. I have suffered since 1865 with protruding, bleeding piles and until recently could find no present relief. Says J. F. Gorman of St. Paul, Ark. Finally I tried Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve which soon completely cured me."

Dr. James Gibson departed on the 10:10 train for Chicago.

A Merry Party. The L. O. T. M. met in a merry party at the home of Mrs. S. H. Wilbur Friday evening, where they were entertained in honor of Mrs. Emma Lloyd, and Mrs. E. Ray Lloyd, who were to have gone to Washington to live. The ladies met to say farewell and regrets, but before the evening was over, they learned with pleasure that their sisters in the lodge are to remain after all. The ladies were presented with beautiful solid silver forks in token of the high esteem in which they are held by the lodge. The evening was spent in games and later in the evening a dainty luncheon was served.

HER 48TH BIRTHDAY

Blind Woman Provided an Entertainment for Friends Yesterday—A Happy Party.

At her home, 103 North Bluff street, Mrs. C. D. Evans entertained a dinner party in honor of her birthday, Sunday, April 20th. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Burg and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, William Harvey, Miss Bell and Dave Midower.

The dinner prepared by Mrs. Evans, (who it will be remembered, is totally blind) would have done justice to any lady in Janesville. It included meat loaf with mashed potatoes and nut salad, a delicate pudding with salted wafers and a variety of cracked nuts with delicious coffee. The birthday cake was made by little Miss Norma Evans, who is a famous cook though but 11 years old. It was a frosted layer cake with the word "mamma" across the top in candy.

The presents, which were entirely unexpected, included a half dozen silver-plated table spoons, two fine towels, a decorated cup and saucer, half dozen fancy butter chips, a pepper and salt, a fine glass fruit dish and half-dozen sauce dishes to match.

Misce by Miss Norma and her parents interspersed the conversation of the afternoon.

Early in the evening Messrs Roy Carter of this city and Louis Lange, a student at the School for the Blind, chanced to call and gave a fine musical treat, which was an appropriate closing of the happy day.

When it is remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Evans are totally blind yet self-supporting and happy, it should be an incentive for people in normal condition. The world owes a living to the willing worker.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT DALLAS, TEXAS

Property Worth $400,000 Is Destroyed by Flames in the Southern City.

PLACE BLAME ON PYROMANIACS

Illinois Man Fatally Injured by Falling
Iron in Blaze at Kansas City, Which Causes a Loss of $75,000—Contagious
In Other Places.

Dallas, Tex., April 21.—Four fires, starting in different sections of this city, and believed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed property estimated to be worth $400,000, on which there is an estimated insurance of $275,000. Five persons were hurt, two perhaps fatally.

The first fire started in the large printing plant of Dorsey Brothers, which occupied an entire new building 100 by 200 feet, three stories high, and which was filled with modern printing machinery, paper and stationery stocks, bank and office furniture, and typewriters carried for manufacturers' agents. The loss in the Dorsey fire is stated to be $200,000, insured to the full underwriters' limit, which is $100,000. The plant was the largest of the kind in the South. The establishment was burned out four years ago and had been rebuilt and opened about two years. Dorsey Brothers say they will rebuild at once.

While the Dorsey fire was in full progress and more than half the department of the city was fighting it, a second alarm announced a fire on Lamar street, near the agricultural implement district. The wind blowing from the south saved the implement district and railroad property adjoining from destruction. Twenty buildings were almost destroyed, about one-half of them being second-class business-houses and dwellings.

About a dozen smaller manufacturing establishments were also destroyed, losses running from $1,000 to $5,000 each. The dozen frame cottages used as dwellings and boarding-houses were destroyed, but part of the contents was saved. These losses are estimated at $15,000.

Chief Magee of the fire department was overcome by heat in one of the buildings and rescued by the police. He remained unconscious several hours, but is reported to be out of danger. His 5-year-old son fell from a second-story window and received injuries which, it is feared, will prove fatal.

William Spurr, a member of No. 3 engine company, was struck in the face by falling debris. His condition is critical. James Robinson of engine company No. 4 and James Roe of chemical No. 2 were overcome by heat and smoke, and rescued by the police. They are reported out of danger.

While the Dorsey and Lamar street fires were in progress fire broke out on Fisher lane, in South Dallas, fully two miles away. Four dwellings were burned. Insurance agents claim this fire was incendiary.

At Nacogdoches Texas, six brick store buildings, a frame hotel and two dwelling houses burned. Losses are estimated at $30,000 to $40,000 with two-thirds insurance.

CHILD BLOWN FROM FIRE ESCAPE

Explosion of Gas Causes Father to Lose
His Hold on the Little One.

Chicago, April 21.—While fleeing from fire in the Monterey apartment building, 65 and 67 Thirty-ninth street, Alice Grimstead, who was clinging to her father's neck on a fire escape, was blown from his grasp by an explosion of gas and dashed to death on the stone flagging fifty feet below. The father had another child under his arm, whom he tightly held, and although severely burned both escaped with their lives. A dozen or more occupants of the building, a five-story structure, had thrilling escapes. Deeds of heroism were performed by many persons, brother rescuing brother and sister saving the life of another. Men who were on the street rushed into the building and saved the lives of several children who were running panic-stricken through the halls. The building itself was damaged $15,000, and the aggregate losses to the tenants will be $10,000.

Kansas City Has $75,000 Fire.

Kansas City, Mo., April 21.—Fire visited the southwestern part of this city, laying waste a section of dwelling houses almost a quarter of a mile long and a block wide, and doing damage to the amount of $75,000. John Stinne of Quincy, Ill., a spectator, was fatally injured by a falling piece of iron and Edward Bennett, a fireman, was overcome by heat.

About fifty dwelling-houses were destroyed and sixty more families rendered homeless. A high wind, amounting almost to a gale, was blowing, and the flames spread with alarming rapidity. Burning embers were blown more than half a mile. After three hours' hard fighting the fire was under control. Many persons lost all their belongings. Much furniture and other property was destroyed after having been piled in supposed places of safety.

GEN. WOOD ON RECIPROCITY.

Washington, March 27.—Governor General Wood said, before leaving Washington for Cuba, Wednesday: "As regards reciprocity with Cuba, it naturally is divided into two interests—that of Cuba and that of the United States. The 20 per cent. proposed reduction on our duties on Cuban products is not sufficient to insure the prosperity of Cuba, and a corresponding reduction on our products would not be sufficient to give us that market. The interest of American producers of cereals, provisions, textiles, boots, shoes, steel rails, locomotives, and machinery, to say nothing of rice and many other products consumed in Cuba, seem thus far to have been overlooked, and only our producers of sugar and tobacco have been considered.

"Furthermore, it has not been established that these interests would be seriously injured by a substantial reduction of our duties on these staples. It has also been overlooked apparently, that our duties on Cuban products average about 100 per cent., as against only 50 per cent. average on the dutiable products of other countries; and even if we should reduce our duties on Cuban products 50 per cent., they would still be paying as high a percentage as the average of the Dingley tariff.

"We can hardly ask from Cuba a larger percentage of reduction in her duties on our products than we give her in our duties on her products; and aside from the considerations of honor and justice toward a little nation that is virtually our ward, the interests of our producers and manufacturers, who, under a proper treaty of reciprocity, would enjoy a large and increasing market, should not be forgotten."

General Wood also said in an article recently published in The Outlook, as follows:

"Cuba cannot expect free sugar, but she can expect, with all reason and justice, that a liberal reduction will be made on the duties which her sugars pay on entering the United States. She can give dollar for dollar in a reciprocity arrangement, and even if she could not, the Platt Amendment, proposed by us and accepted by Cuba, certainly imposes upon us a moral obligation to see to it that Cuba is justly treated by us and enabled to live up to its requirements.

"We have as a people, only partially completed our duty toward the island. We have expelled Spain. It is true. We have cleaned up the island, have laid the foundation for good government; but this work will be largely useless unless we give Cuba the means to continue the work which we have so well begun. Her present condition is not unlike that of a child who has been taken charge of by a society for the prevention of cruelty to children on the ground that its parents were unfit to care for it. All its domestic relations have been severed, and those who have assumed charge are now called upon to provide for the education, protection, and maintenance of the youngster; and until strong enough to support itself we are morally bound to do it."

The latest act in the Cuban drama, was played in the house last Friday, when a majority of the members voted against Cuba, in the interests of beet sugar. The bill now goes back to the senate, and the ground will be threshed over again. There is without doubt a great deal of wisdom represented in both branches of congress, but to the ordinary observer it is difficult to understand why the Cuban question is so difficult to settle.

The island was liberated, not by congress, but by an uprising of the common people in all parts of the land, fired by a spirit of righteous indignation. The work was short and decisive. It was inspired by humane impulses, and the question of future competition did not enter into it. When Spain was driven out, and the Stars and Stripes heralded the advent of freedom from bondage, the work of the common people was completed, and to their representatives at Washington was delegated the task of dispensing fair and impartial justice, to our new dependency. The people paid the debt that war had entailed without complaint and expected that their public servants would carry out the humane policy established, and to which they were pledged.

It is safe to assume that the great heart of the departed President bent in sympathy with the poverty stricken island, and in his last public utterance, he advocated friendly trade relations, that Cuba was in mind. President Roosevelt is prompted by the same desire, and yet in spite of all facts and conditions, congress assumes the responsibility of saying, "stand back, we possess more wisdom than the people and the Chief Executive combined." The great bone of contention just now is sugar, and yet we bring from across the sea, several times the amount produced, both at home and in Cuba. The question of honor and obligation is ignored. Better by far to increase the bounty on beet sugar and the cane products of the South, than break faith with a feeble dependency, that sooner or later will become a part of the Union. Cuba is in position today, with a little encouragement, to buy of us in volumes, many times the amount of sugar produced.

If there was ever an opportunity to test the value and practical workings of reciprocity, it is presented to the present congress in dealing with Cuba. The legislative body will do well to remember that there is a large home constituency, with only a fragment financially interested in the cultivation of beet sugar. The question is broader than any individual industry, and justice as well as the future, should not be overlooked.

THE DEMONSTRATION AT MADISON.

It is no surprise that the demonstration by the Republican students at the University of Wisconsin is arousing widespread attention throughout the state, because it was a decisive expression of the active, the young and the aggressive Republicans in the university in behalf of the re-election of Senator Spooner. The following is the resolution, which was adopted by the students by a viva voce vote, after the meeting had selected T. P. Abel, of Kenosha, president, by a vote of 283 to 142, the latter being the vote for Harry W. Adams of Black Earth. Abel was brought forward by the friends of Senator Spooner, while Adams was recognized as the candidate of the partisans of Governor LaFollette:

"Resolved, that we recognize the signal ability of United States Senator John C. Spooner and the high regard in which he is held by the nation at large. We also recognize that his statesmanship and legal talent reflect great honor upon the state which he represents and his alma mater, the University of Wisconsin. In view of his services to the nation and the ability which he possesses, we respectfully urge him to reconsider his letter of declination heretofore published and again accept the United States senatorship, and we pledge him our united support and efforts to compass his re-election."

The Republican students at the University are known to be among the most active, best informed and most progressive Republicans in the state. Many of them are fit to be leaders in the politics of Wisconsin. But one thing the students should understand. It is not necessary for Senator Spooner to withdraw his letter of declination, written two years ago. The Republicans of the state are to determine this question, and not he. When the Republican legislators meet next January in Madison, they are to decide whether Senator Spooner shall be a candidate. It is not his personal preference they must consult, but the wishes of the people whom they represent. We believe a large majority of the Republican members will consider it wisest and best for the people that Senator Spooner be commissioned to Washington for another term. If they choose, they can elect him. It is not necessary that a statesman so long known to the people of Wisconsin, and who possesses so much of their confidence and regard, should announce, "I am a candidate for the United States Senate."—Evening Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin has sized up the situation correctly. Senator Spooner will succeed himself because the people will elect him. It isn't a question of choice with the Senator, but it is a question of popular demand. The University boys were on the right side of public sentiment, and when opposition developed, they were ready to support Spooner at the expense of the Governor. The rank and file of the party will take the same decided stand, when the fine work of the opposition develops, as it is bound to do when the lines are closely drawn.

William Ellis, of Peshtigo, a popular lumberman, has just announced himself as a candidate for congress. He couples his declaration with the statement that he favors the re-election of LaFollette for governor, and Isaac Stephenson for the United States senate. The governor's supporters may some of them be more discreet than Mr. Ellis, but unless ignorant of the situation, they are not in favor of Senator Spooner's return and will do all they can to defeat it.

General Miles is having the support of some of the senators and the president is advised to go slow in dealing with him. It is safe to say that the army as well as the people will survive, whatever may happen to the erratic general. He has gone out of his way to court criticism, and is not entitled to very much sympathy.

Senator McGillivray has sewed up Clark county so tight with LaFollette organizations, that he is now looking around for new worlds to conquer. He might transfer his energies to Dane county, and commence on the university boys. When he gets them corralled he will find room for a little missionary work in Walworth.

The LaFollette press is attempting to claim that no significance attaches to the recent election of the University boys republican club. It simply means that a large majority of the club members are Spooner men and in sympathy with the conservative element of the party.

The Milwaukee Journal, with all its frantic efforts did not succeed in retiring Senator Whitehead. If the Journal will be good until after election it will enjoy the pleasure of congratulating the Senator as Governor, but it will be deprived of the satisfaction of saying, "I told you so."

Congressman Cushman, of the state of Washington, gained national fame as an orator last Friday, when he attacked some of the moss backed customs of the house. The Washington representative is a second Lincoln in appearance, and possesses much of his originality.

Who cares for meat any way? It has always been regarded an unhealthy diet, especially at 20 cents per pound.

The post check-currency system is growing in favor, and congress is being urged to favorable action.

What has become of the ship subsidy bill? It seems to be lost in the shuffle.

If one banana is equal to half a pound of steak, what's the matter with a banana roast?

If the trust gets away with the steak try the cash system.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is not a very hard matter to read the thoughts of a small boy who is seen gazing longingly at the water and then sticking his finger in to test the temperature.

Hudson Star-Times: Eau Claire county is so strongly anti-LaFollette that all that is required down there is for some one to rise and move that the opposition be made, unanimous.

Milwaukee Journal: Judge Fessenden evidently appreciated that there were limits beyond which the law could not go, when he refused to attempt to restrain Miss Stone from talking.

The ice-cream soda will soon again preclude the land like a swarm of seventeen-year locusts. And the heart of the summer girl will rejoice thereat, while the summer youth will squander the surplus of his six-dollar-a-week salary in trying to gratify the craving of the aforesaid maiden.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Beloit Free Press: Just why the most ardent supporters of Gov. LaFollette throughout the State should appear to be so satisfied and pleased with the defeat of the Republican candidate for mayor at the recent Milwaukee municipal election is explainable only on the ground that they are not in reality Republicans though pretending to be.

Nellsville Times: It has been charged that in ever political campaign for years back LaFollette and his followers have been bolters in every instance where political conventions have failed to nominate the men of their choice, and the action of the LaFollette men here in the city of Nellsville in this canvas has shown that this charge is probably true. It is the same old LaFollette policy, rule or ruin.

The Tragedy of the Storm.

The summer sky was overcast
With clouds which turned it black,
And earth and air resounded with
The thunder's splitting crack.
The wind came by in driving gusts,
And soon the pelting rain,
Shot down in volleys, thick and fast
That swept the hill and plain.
A little dog caught in the storm
Was frightened as could be,
And being far from home and friends
Took refuge 'neath a tree.
The lightning struck the tree space
And, whirling down its log,
It left beneath a barkless tree
A barkless little dog.

A middle-aged old woman was sneering at a young mother's awkwardness with her first infant, and said: "I declare a woman ought to never have a baby unless she knows how to hold it." Nor a tongue either," quietly responded the young mother.—Exchange.

WEEK OF PASSOVER BEGINS TONIGHT

The Family Life of Hebrews Will Be Marked by Observance of Prescribed Ceremony

At twilight this evening the Jewish world will celebrate the Feast of the Passover, in commemoration of Israel's deliverance from Egyptian bondage. This festival, also called the Feast of Unleavened Bread, commemorates "independence day" of the ancient Hebrews.

In all parts of the world public services will be conducted during Passover week, and the family life of the people will be marked by a more or less strict observance of the prescribed ceremony.

When the mother is Israel lights the Sabbath lamp "Seder night" begins. The men of the family, according to their custom when approaching the Deity, wrap themselves in their taliths and wear their hats. The members of the household seat themselves at the Passover table, where the ancient feast of unleavened bread, bitter herbs, a small bone of the paschal lamb and wine is served.

After copious extracts from the Psalms have been recited the whole group rises, the outside doors are thrown open and all join in a vehement imprecation against Pharaoh and his host. Rescating themselves a petition for the coming of Elijah is followed by the chanting of another Psalm. Then the desire of the conservative Jew of all generations since the destruction of his holy city is poured out in prayer for the restoration of Israel to its own land, for the coming of the Messiah, and for the rebuilding of the temple at Jerusalem.

Gave Beloit a Drubbing
About five hundred people gathered on Bunker Hill yesterday afternoon and saw the Second Ward Stars put it all over the picked team from Beloit by a score of 21 to 11.

The Beloit club was accompanied by about one hundred rooters with yellow ribbons tied to their button holes. Many good plays were made by both clubs but the Janesville boys were too fast for the visitors. The Beloit battery was Garry and Chatfield and the Janesville team had Hutchinson and Ward. Umpire Somers gave excellent satisfaction. The Janesville boys will play a return game in Beloit on May 4.

BOUGHT 4,000 CASES OF BADGER TOBACCO

Largest Transfer of Wisconsin Leaf Known in Recent Years Purchased by New York Firm.

Wm. Brill, representing the consolidated firms of Kerbs, Wertheim & Schiffer and Hirschorn & Mack, cigar manufacturers of New York city, purchased nearly 4,000 cases of Wisconsin tobacco of the growth of 1900. The lot includes 2,700 cases packed by M. H. Bekkedahl at Virginia, 700 cases packed by Eckhart & Shannon at Westby and the packing of Frank Shannon at Edgerton. This is the largest purchase made in the state for some time and indicates an improvement in the demand for old tobacco.

The purchase is an important one and involves the sum of about $125,000 in the transaction.

The consolidated firms of Kerbs, Wertheim & Schiffer and Hirschorn & Mack, are the largest manufacturers of cigars outside of the American Cigar Co. They employ about 5,000 cigar makers and turn out nearly 125,000,000 cigars per year, or 2,500,000 per week.

In the manufacture of cigars they consume about four cases of Wisconsin tobacco per day, besides large quantities of other kinds of tobacco.

Mr. Brill, who managed the transaction left for his home in New York Saturday. Frank Shannon, of Edgerton is the state representative of the firms above mentioned.

THROWN OUT OF A BUGGY HEADLONG

Excitement Over a Peculiar Accident on East Milwaukee Street, Yesterday Afternoon.

Some excitement was caused last evening about eleven o'clock by a couple in a buggy, coming down the hill on East Milwaukee street near Dr. Miller's residence. They were driving along at a trot, when without any warning the girl toppled over and fell out of the buggy. She struck the ground between the wheels and before the horse could be stopped the hind wheel passed over her body. She did a tall amount of screaming after she started to fall and aroused the neighborhood. She did not seem to be much hurt and was hustled back into the buggy by the young man with her and driven away. Evidently from their actions they had been visiting some of the out of town summer resorts and had a good time.

The Carpenter Company
The E. J. Carpenter company in the Russian melodrama, "For Her Sake," which will be seen at the Myers Grand on Friday, April 25, promises to be the melodramatic treat of the season. Wherever it has been presented the press and public generally voice but one opinion. "It is much the best Russian play yet written." The fact that every stitch of scenery used in its presentation is carried, the costuming correct, and the company a very capable one, all tend to make it one of the most satisfactory productions of the fading company.

NO TRUTH IN THE RUMOR OF STRIKE

Local Bricklayers and Masons Do Not Intend to Go Out on the First of May.

There was a report current about the city yesterday that the brick layers and masons were going out on a strike on May 1. The report was thoroughly investigated and it can be stated on authority that there is no truth in the rumor. The masons' union consider that their interests and those of their employers as well as those of the general public are identical, and that they are capable of adjusting all differences in an amicable and conciliatory manner.

At a meeting of the union Saturday evening the wage scale of forty cents an hour and nine hours to constitute a day's work for the ensuing year was agreed upon by the contractors and workmen.

There has been a feeling of uneasiness on late between the contractors and men regarding the wage scale and before it was adopted several stories were put in circulation that there would be a general strike on May 1.

As far as the brick layers and masons are concerned there is no truth in the report. The other unions have settled their differences with their employers and have no complaint. The carpenters have left their differences to an arbitration committee so that there need be no uneasiness on the part of those contemplating building because of the labor unions liability to strike.
